QUARTERS Opens First Co-Living-House In New York 47 fully-equipped, furnished rooms, modern designed amenity areas and smart technology available to QUARTERS-community in New York from June 2017

New York-- 27 June, 2017 – Medici Living Group, the world's largest co-living provider, officially opens its first newly built QUARTERS-house located in Manhattan's trendy Lower East Side. The concept provides a home for an international community of creative spirits, young entrepreneurs and digital nomads. QUARTERS has just opened another flagship ground up development in the heart of Berlin increasing to 1,200 the number of managed units offering access to co-living spaces worldwide, including cities such as Amsterdam, Los Angeles and Munich.

"There is great interest in QUARTERS New York. About 500 people have already registered for a membership here within one week after the rental start", says Evan Kasper, Managing Director, North America, Medici Living Group.

"Co-Living is a revolution on the housing market", says CEO and Founder Gunther Schmidt. "It's an all-inclusive feel-good package and offers not only highly demanded, fully equipped living spaces in big cities, but also a community of like-minded people and a social network", added Schmidt. " We see great potential for our new concept in New York and Berlin. In order to cope with the enormous demand from tenants, we will open further QUARTERS-houses in the US and further cities across the globe soon."

QUARTERS New York: Co-living for an international, creative community

QUARTERS New York offers a total of 47 co-living spaces. The 15 apartments have three furnished rooms, a sleek, fully-equipped kitchen and at least two bathrooms - in some cases en suite. Residents of this new co-living community will enjoy free access to members-only amenity areas like a large communal kitchen with a dining area, a reading corner, ping-pong table, an open air cinema and access to a private roof top terrace.

QUARTERS

PART OF THE MEDICI LIVING GROUP

QUARTERS offers a disrupting “living-as-a-service”-product that provides more than a modern living space, but also instant access to a network of like-minded people and smart technology that digitizes the rental process. “We provide a revolutionary tech platform to make leasing and living as easy as possible for our members”, says Robert Gmeiner, Co-Founder and Managing Director of Medici Living Group. “We have completely taken the pain out of the rental process and our members now have total control at their fingertips. They will be able to manage all aspects of their Quarter via the QUARTERS App - all digital, mobile, and totally instantaneous. After they have booked online, our members will be able to manage their lease, payments and gain access to member support. Moreover, the community will be able to use the app to network worldwide, sign-up for community events and book additional exclusive services.”

QUARTERS is partnering with leading design and tech brands to deliver a truly once-in-a-lifetime experience. Casper, one of the fastest growing consumer brands, is supplying mattresses, sheets and pillows to provide QUARTERS members with the best possible sleep experience. Clay Solutions is providing wireless door locks, so QUARTERS members will no longer have to carry keys and can enter and move around the building hassle-free by using the QUARTERS App.
